Quanex's Mikron 9300™ Window System Delivers Versatility and Performance for Every Residential Need

HOUSTON, Oct. 31, 2023 (NYSE: NX) — For a reliable way to meet the specific needs of regional markets throughout the country, look no further than Quanex's Mikron 9300™ window system, which offers excellent performance, reliability and versatility.

Mikron 9300 profiles help meet the wide and varied demands of building professionals across the country. Residential window OEMs can trust Mikron house systems for lasting beauty, operation and performance in a variety of climates.

Mikron 9300 is also available in a range of colors, featuring Quanex's proprietary SuperCapSR™ exterior color technology. A patented, co-extruded colorant system, SuperCapSR creates a molecularly fused color layer that becomes an integral part of the profile. Unlike painted vinyl, the tough acrylic color layer is 12 times more scratch resistant and durable to withstand delivery and installation handling. That means you can deliver on the demands of your customers with high-performing color that will last a lifetime.

The Mikron 9300 window system is:

- Ideal for both new construction and retrofit applications.
- Exclusively formulated with Quanex's proprietary MikronBlend® vinyl compound across all Quanex manufacturing facilities for extreme batch consistency.
- Available in a variety of configurations to suit your needs.
- AAMA-certified to provide peace of mind from production to installation.

"We know our North American customers are challenged with developing complete window systems that must withstand extreme weather and temperatures, year after year, following installation," said Eric Thompson, national account manager, Quanex. "That kind of performance requires robust vinyl formulation and stringent profile design—qualities we're proud to offer with Mikron house systems."
